GENERAL INFORMATION:

The Department of Political Science was started in the year 1990-91 to cater to the increasing demand of P.U.C students opting for Political Science as one of the electives along with History and Economics. The Department was started at the degree college in 1996-97. Those students who passed out of B.A with H.E.P. combination were eligible for B.Ed. & P.G. courses. Introduction of Political Science in our college was followed by establishment of the Department of Political Science which became very popular. The introduction of Political Science in B.A course was in the interests of students choosing it as an optional subject.

The institution is located in a developed and elite area. Parents, public and well-wishers have supported the college morally and materially. The fame and name of the Rural Education Society has spread far and wide. The institution was adjudged as one of the best in rural areas. The credit for this goes to the Founder President Shri.S.Kariyappa. The college has completed almost 60 years of glorious service to the poor and rural students and certainly has become a byword for championing the cause of literacy.

Political Science

Introduction:-

Political Science is the science of the state and environment. The origin of Political Science can be traced back from 1792 to 1750 BC. However the primary development of Political Science originated from the time of Plato (427-347BC) a Greek Philosopher and Aristotle who became the progenitors of Political Science. The term 'Political' is derived from the Greek word 'Polis' which means 'city' and 'state'

Plato and Aristotle were two political scientists who continuously went in quest of systematic analysis of the political system of the city – state Social Science is a combination of Sociology, Economics, Political Science, and Geography which makes us competent to lead a life of meaning and justice. Political Science is a repository of wisdom and power, it is a study in reason and reflection, guide and mirror to human behaviour in a given and organized mechanism of the state Political Science may have come into existence along with human evolution. At the beginning of the 19th century it started to trace its roots back to the works of Aristotle, Plato and Chanakya which were written nearly 2500 years ago.

Political Science comprises of numerous subfields such as Comparative Politics, Political Economy, International relations, Political Theory, Political policies, political administration and political methodology. The study of these provides its readers with insight into the constitutional, moralistic and intellectual perceptions which make us virtuous, upright, civilized and refined citizens.

However any city, state or nation has to perceive political concepts and follow political administration for all over development. The political policies, rules, rights and duties bring a region or state to prosperity

Therefore citizens particularly students and youth must necessarily read and understand Political Science.
